GENERAL J. B. GORDON TO THE NEGROES.

General J. B. Gordon, of Brunswick, Ga., has issued an address to his "colored friends," warning them against the agitation from the North and assuring them of his "lively interest" in their welfare. He says:

I am in favor of extending, by every possible means, every aid toward the moral and intellectual advancement of the colored race, and think that peculiar circumstances authorize me to assert, with the most entire confidence, that such is the almost universal opinion of the Southern people. It was my fortune, during the war, in the Southern army, to command young men from almost every section of the South. They and their parents are my friends, and have been in the habit, wherever I have met them, of unfolding their views with great freedom to me on these and kindred topics. I assert, without reservation, that I cannot recall an instance of exception or dissent to the uniformity of these expressions of kind wishes toward your people. Nor have I found one who, when questioned, as to his wishes in this regard, has not emphatically declared that he would not vote you back into slavery had he the power to do so. They who assert or insinuate the contrary are themselves the victims of the blindest delusion, or actuated by the worst motives in seeking to make a different impression. Associating with you from childhood, we have not to subdue the prejudices and antipathies to your race that belong to other sections. The white man of the South ought to be, is and ever will be, (unless some strange delusion should enter the brain and poison the counsels of the one or the other party,) in the same section. Why should it be otherwise? Acquaintance, past association, in many instances mutual gratitude and affection, as well as the mutual dependence of daily business relations, all conspire to bind them together. He who teaches you to regard our interests as conflicting, is not a friend to your race. Our interests are identical. If the white man is oppressed, his colored neighbor must suffer with him. They are embarked together, and the one cannot swim if the other sinks. If Federal legislation should discriminate against the labor of the South—if, for instance, the Congress should exempt the great Northern staple—wheat—and place a tax of three cents per pound on the cotton of this section, is it not obvious that the tax falls on the bale raised by the colored man, as on the ten bales grown by his white neighbor?"

A WARNING.

A negro in Tennessee, named Joseph E. Williams, has published, and is now circulating the following paper:

"To the Colored People throughout Tennessee:—I feel the great danger that will inevitably befall the colored race of the South by pursuing extreme, or what are commonly termed "radical" measures. The white radicals wish to make a cat's paw of us by throwing us "to the front," in a political point of view, as they did in the rebellion, because we are ignorant and do not understand their schemes. Why do they court the favor of the freedmen? It is because you are "loyal" to them. I contend that your best interest is to yourselves, for your own advancement, by not adopting their wild policy.

The freedmen can live happily and prosperously in the Southern States only by standing on a conservative platform. True, these radicals have made us voters, to suit their own selfish ends; but have they not prohibited us, at the same time, from exercising the right of sitting in the jury box, and the right of holding office? They say that we shall not vote for those of our own color, and that it is a high crime for us to vote for whom we please. Are we not capable of thinking and acting for ourselves? If not, we are, in my opinion, no better than political slaves—mere tools, to be used when needed, and then thrown aside. Never will I consent to thus encourage the wild schemes of these white radicals, to my own destruction and to the destruction of my race in the South.

I claim to be a true conservative. I am neither a radical nor a rebel—not an instrument to breed strife between the two races, but peace, not for hostility, but tranquility. Those of my own color who act with me claim the right to follow our own interest and opinions as a race, without radical dictation. We easily perceive how, after withholding from us the right to vote until our assistance became absolutely essential—these pretended friends of the black man tell us, in the words of the Press and Times, that if we do not vote for them, we "ought to be sent to the lunatic asylum." Theirs is a sound platform of liberty and equality, surely. I do not believe that there is a freedman in all Tennessee ignorant enough to be taken in by such a sham.

JOSEPH E. WILLIAMS.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN A RADICAL AND CONSERVATIVE.

The Nashville (Tenn.) Banner gives the following as the observation of a shrewd colored citizen of that place, as to the distinction between a Radical and a Conservative, which will probably "meet the case" in some localities nearer home. The Banner says:

"One of the shrewdest of our old colored citizens, who knows on which side his bread is buttered, and has a hearty contempt for the little pretenders and the ragamuffins that seek to control him, observed the other day, "the difference between a conservative gentleman and a radical sneak is this: "The conservative meets me, and says 'good morning,' and asks me how I'm getting on, and has a cheerful word, and finally gives me a dollar for old acquaintance sake, and promises me a job if I'll call round; the radical meets me, smiles, and bows politely, takes my hand as if he thought he was doing me a favor, and then asks me to subscribe a quarter to some hoompoous society, or league, which he's just got up, or is going to git up. If I give him the quarter, that's the last I see of him or the money." There never was a truer or more logical statement made."

Galignani tells a good story of a brace of desperate duelists who placed a bottle of sulphuric acid between them and threw high dice to decide which one should have the pleasure of pouring the contents down the throat of his antagonist. The unlucky fellow swallowed the draught, and, to the astonishment of the other, smoked his pipe and asked for more. The seconds had substituted arrack, and the affair was arranged

SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 4, 1867.

WHO ARE DISFRANCHISED?

It is a fortunate circumstance that the government has provided a competent officer, to whom the Executive or the officers of the law can appeal, for an official interpretation of the meaning of the acts of Congress, which they are called upon to enforce. This officer is the Attorney General of the United States. The present incumbent, Attorney General Stanberry, has a very high reputation as a lawyer, and he is now engaged in preparing an exposition of the Reconstruction law, which we hope will be so clear and specific as to leave no point for doubt or disputation. The law, necessarily, is general in its terms—these terms do not admit entirely of a general interpretation, for the reason that the duties and powers of State officers are different in the several States, and they are called by different names, even when charged with the same duties.

The last National Intelligencer has a lengthy and able exposition of the reconstruction law, but, like everything we have seen from the press, it lacks thoroughness in some particulars, still leaves room for further inquiry and criticism, and, above all, lacks authority. The opinion of the Attorney General, therefore, is absolutely necessary to fix anything like uniform and authoritative rules for the government of registrars.

The proscribed or disfranchised classes by the Reconstruction law are two: First, those persons who, before the war, held office, either Federal or State, and afterwards "engaged in the rebellion." Secondly, those who have been disfranchished for participation in the rebellion or for felony.

The "office" held, as alluded to, must have been that of a member of Congress, a member of the State Legislature, an executive or judicial officer of a State, or an officer of the United States, and the Federal or State officer must have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States. But the holding of any of the foregoing offices, or the taking of the said oath, does not disfranchise, unless said officer afterwards "engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States or gave aid and comfort to the enemies thereof."

Persons already "disfranchised for participation in the rebellion" must simply mean, we presume, those who were disfranchised by President Johnson's amnesty proclamation, and who have not been pardoned by him.

The remaining points to be met are those involved in the following questions: 1. What is an Executive or Judicial office? 2. Who are the "officers" of the United States and of the State referred to, who took an oath to support the Constitution of the United States? 3. What is engaging in the rebellion? 4. What it is to give aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States?

1. What is an Executive or Judicial officer? The party disfranchised must have been a Federal or State Executive or Judicial officer, must have taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States, as such officers, and afterwards violated it by taking part in or aiding the rebellion. The Intelligencer says that a Governor is the type of an executive officer; therefore an "executive officer" is one whose official functions resemble those of a Governor. A Judge is the type of a "judicial official;" therefore, the functions of a judicial officer resemble those of a Judge. This definition may be correct, but it is not sufficiently explicit. What is the degree of resemblance required? Until that is settled, difficulty must arise. It appears to us that a better definition is this: An executive officer, in the sense of the law, is one who executes the law; and a judicial officer is one who adjudicates matters in controversy, agreeably to the law. Agreeably to the Intelligencer's definition, until the points of resemblance to its types are fixed, none others but Governors and Judges are embraced in the disfranchisement, by the terms "executive or judicial officers," since no others possess the powers or perform the functions of a Governor or Judge.

There is another point, however, which the Intelligencer makes, which, if correct, fixes more definitely the meaning of the law. It is this: "That county, city, township, district or precinct officers, are not State officers in the sense of the law or the Constitution." If the character of the officer is determined by the powers and jurisdiction conferred upon him by his appointment or commission, rather than by the authority which elects and issues the commission, in that case the Intelligencer is correct. We judge, however, that the latter is the true definition. It strikes us that all officers appointed by the authorities of the United States, and who receive their Commissions or powers from the United States, are officers of the United States, and that all officers who are appointed by the authorities of the State, and who receive their powers and commissions from the State, are officers of the State, whether their jurisdiction covers the State, or is confined to a county, town, city or precinct. Hence all Postmasters, Collectors of Customs, Mail Contractors, U. S. Marshalls, U. S. District Attorneys and Judges, U. S. Assessors and Collectors of Revenue, who have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, as well as all military officers, are by the Reconstruction Act included by the term of "officers of the United States," although their jurisdiction is limited to particular localities.

According to the Reconstruction Act, we judge that those who have filled the office of Governor of the State are the only executive officers in the State, unless Solicitors may be included. As to judicial offices, we think Judges and Magistrates will be certainly included.

The Intelligencer thus explains what is meant by "engaging in the rebellion:"

"Fighting for it, legislating for it, executing its laws, and conducting its foreign agencies were engaging in it; but common humanity, common hospitality, common friendship, and good neighborhood were not."

THE INDICATIONS are that the State is to be inundated with Radical empirics during the summer. Kelly, it will be seen, has turned his face in another direction, but the "Republican Executive Committee," at Washington, have plenty of money on hand, and they will be able to secure the services of scores of other patriots, who will be willing to "turn a penny," and, for expenses paid and a few perquisites, consent to engage in the work of enlightening the Southern heathen. They will come like the locusts, and, like the locusts, they will destroy the substance in the land,—virtually, at least; for the constant assembling of the colored people in meeting and conventions, whereby their minds are excited and their time consumed, cannot but prove highly detrimental to the prospect of a successful crop and the general industrial interests of the State.—Every Radical orator, who comes into North Carolina, will inflict a pecuniary loss upon the people of the State of thousands of dollars, to say nothing of other evils that will follow in their train,—evils growing out of angry controversy and agitated public opinion. They will thus off-set all the philanthropy of Christian Commissions and Relief Associations. But what care they for this? The party must be built up, though trade, industry, and everything else, perish.

By the way, it has been our opinion that, if only one or two of these Radical stipendiaries should come into the State, it would be, perhaps, well enough to let them go on their way, without being replied to. It, however, as seems imminent, they are to come in hordes, we hope that at every point, and on every hustings, they will be met and exposed as they deserve to be. We have men in North Carolina who can handle them successfully and precipitate their exit from our borders, with several fleas in their ear.

STATE LAWS.—A remark or two, in the last Henderson Index, in regard to the State laws, demand a reply. Ignorance is always an apology for error. The official acts of the late Legislature could not be prepared for the Public Printer, until late in March. The session did not close till the 4th of March. Neither the Secretary of State nor the Public Printer can control these matters. Both are obliged to be governed by the law. The Legislature provides no other means of publishing the laws, but by the State Printer in book form, and it allows him 90 days, after the session closes, for their printing. We received the laws and commenced on them, about the third week in March, and this is the first week in May—about 50 days. The laws and ordinances and the journals are all printed, and the binder will execute his work as soon as possible, when they will be distributed at once. The laws and ordinances alone make a book of over 500 pages. Never has the work been executed better or quicker, that we are aware.

But over and above our duty in this regard, we have published, in the Sentinel, every law which we have been asked to publish. If parties are interested in having a copy of the laws, before they can be published, why it is as little as any gentleman can ask, that the Secretary of State should have the fee fixed by law for making a transcript.

THE ALBANY Evening Journal which, though Radical, is opposed to Mr. Stevens and his confiscation, and the theory on which it is defended, says:

"Mr. Stevens says there 'is no Virginia.'—The Unionists of the North fought four years to prove that there is a Virginia, and that Virginia is in the Union, amenable to its Constitution and its laws. It is too late now to abandon this position, or to expect that a Congress by which it has been so repeatedly indorsed, will falsify the logic of its own action."

KELLEY, of Pennsylvania, instead of following Senator Wilson in his campaign through the South, is to proceed directly to New Orleans, and, commencing there, make a Radical speech-making tour through Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Northern Georgia, and Tennessee.

Our friends in North Carolina do well to copy our exposure of Wilson's inconsistency, but do ill in not giving credit.—Richmond Examiner.

We make the amende honorable, so far as we are concerned. The omission to give credit was accidental.

THE FEAR OF CONFISCATION.—One of our Southern correspondents, writing from Mississippi, says that among the people the existing reconstruction laws of Congress "are not so interesting a subject of consideration as the threat of confiscation;" that these military bills do not hurt them; but that "the fear of confiscation is an actual destroyer of confidence," and that all classes feel the consequences. No doubt the late doleful growl of confiscation from the remorseless Stevens will tend somewhat to increase the Southern apprehensions of worse things yet to come than negro suffrage; but let the Southern people in good faith meet the condition before them, and Northern public opinion will secure fair play from Congress. There need be no fear upon this point.—N. Y. Herald.

An official investigation into the affairs of the National Bank, at Selma, Ala., shows the assets and liabilities amount to $382,587; amount overdrawn, $9,162. The capita stock had never been paid in, the bonds to secure the circultion were borrowed and paid for by the circulatiou received from the Treasury Department, and the $100,000 of bonds to secure the government deposits were bought with the deposits in the bank. The $182,000 cash that appears from the books to be in the vaults, less the $9,000 actually found, has been issued by Parkman in his private speculations in iron and cotton. Parkman, the absconding President, has been arrested and is now in jail at Selma. General Joseph E. Johnson is a heavy loser, having deposited nearly all his money in the bank.

THE PRESIDENT ON THE MILITARY COMMANDERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Charleston Courier says:

"The President, and indeed all the members of his Cabinet, express their gratification at the fact, now fixed, that the ten excluded southern States are now hastening to reorganize under the laws, harshas they are, of Congress. They are hopeful that the representation of these States in Congress will favorably affect the temper and policy of the Radical party, and that it may soon lead to financial, commercial, and political reforms.

"The President said to-day that it was necessary to tame down the Military commanders who govern the provisional States in their several military districts. Their wings must be cut a little, lest they take too high a flight. A law in itself arbitrary, mortifying and vindictive, should be so construed and administered as to impose as little hardship upon those subjected to it as possible."

The election parade in Hartford, on the 1st., was the grandest thing of the kind ever witnessed in Connecticut. Some forty military companies were in line. In spite of the rain about 30,000 people came into the city, and the day was observed as a holiday. Governor English reviewed the whole line, riding on horseback, and was received with many cheers. Major General Franklin was Chief Marshall of the day. The Governor was inaugurated at the State House at three o'clock, and delivered his message.

The whole number of sewing machines manufactured in the United States, from the first invention of that ingenious machine down to the close of 1866, is estimated at 750,000. At present, the rate of manufacture is about 200,000 a year.

The wheat crop of the West is reported to be in excellent condition. It is said there never was better promise of an abundant yield. In Northern Indiana an unusual breadth of land has been devoted to the sowing of wheat.

"THE UNION WASHING MACHINE."

"Mrs Betsy Bitterweet," of this State, being requested and desiring to call the attention of her "afflicted sisters" to the above valuable patent, asks us to give publicity to the following communication. Coming from so earnest an old lady, we can but comply. It is proper to remark, in order to a proper understanding of some of her "pints," that the same patentees, to whom she refers, advertise, also, the "Union Wringer," "Sherman's Wringer," "American Mangle," "Union Cothes Dryer," "World's Clothes Dryer," &c., &c.

For the Sentinel.

NEWBUN, North Carlina.

DEAR MISTER EDITERS:—I spose, being as how you's in the printing line yourself, you reads all as is printed, and know that I writ Mr. Editers, whar prints the New York papers, that I was subjugated and wouldn't call nobody Gin'ral thout'en he had on a full dress uniform, buttons and all. Directly I done so, Mr. Hill, whar prints the Land We Love, come out and said he was perfectly loyal to greenbacks; so I jest held out the right hand o'fellowship to him at wonst, and, in the words of the poet, said, "Here's another." But I goes furder even than he does, for I aint not only loyal to greenbacks, but I am a rigler out and out Unionist. Now I dont mean by that that I'm for staying out'en the Union; it would be just like the Raiden-Pool-Fontiord-Unionist to say that was what I meant, when instead o' that I mean I'm a Mashin Unionist. My ole man, who's allers a talking in unbeknowned tongues, says as how we've got to go back inter the Union—nolans, volans—which I tuck to mean confiscated o' our lands and none an'em ourn; but Betsy Jane, that's my darter, you know, says it means willy nilly, which is French for whether we likes it or not. She's high eddicated, Betsey Jane is, having been a spell to Dr. Smeedes' siminerry, and I gives up to her considerable in the litterary line, for of all folks for making of a litter about a house, a gal just home from school, with her head full o' beaux, is the worst, thouten it is a young man at the same stage o' life with his head full o' gals and base balls.—But I won't stand back for nobody in the cleaning up and setting straight line, and that's what I sot down to tell you.

It we's got to go back inter the Union, nolans volans, I want all my sisters in affliction, who is half worried out'n ther lives, and whole worried out'n ther tempers, to turn mashin Unionists at wonst, and send off the free ladies of color they's er paying for not doing of ther washing, and get a UNION WASHING MASHIN, and a UNION CLOTHES WRINGER and a UNION CLOTHES DRYER. So, out'n pure love and kindness, and a desire to do ther souls good, as well as ther bodies, Iv'e writ a ditty advising of em to do so. Betsy Jane corrected the spellin, and pinted it, she sed, but seems to me t'was pinted enuff when I gin it to her, and aint no sharper now, but then I wernt edicated at Dr. Smeedes' Siminerry. Them as likes it kin go on with the AMERIKIN MANGLE. I don't recommend it; seems to me them as is already ironed, to say nothing 'bout being muzzled, don't need mangling; but folks differs on this pint, and a stronger one is that the AMERICAN MANGLE being a downright one—Lord bless my soul! I meant an UPRIGHT MANGLE—is very expensive, and don't suit sich poor folks as we Southerners. And I don't like SHERMAN'S WRINGER, nether; it haint got no cogs and squeezes ruther too hard. Some folks says as how the WORLD'S DRYER is better'n the UNION DRYER, because it performs revolutions; but that's the very reason I don't 'prove on it. Revolutions is apt to tare things up ginerally, and, if they don't run smooth, ends in being nothing but rebellions, and all we Southern women know as how, in this here "great rebelion," so called, a sight o'clothes has been tore up. And we can't afford the ware and tare of a WORLD'S DRYER, if its gwine ter rebel, instead o' revolutionizing, as it's full like to do of a freed lady of color has the handling of it. So I don't rekomend none but the UNION MASHINS, as you'll see when you've read my ditty. Now, Mister Editers, don't you let your devil git the better o'you, and print that word wrong, for my ole man says as how have his corpus is suspended, and the next thing arter that will be a having er herse, and if Mr. Jeams Fontlord hears as how Iv'e writ you that the North Carliner Unionists is a dirty set and oughter be run through a washing mashin and a wringer, and then left higher and DRYER than he'll be when the vox populi sanz vomica of his colored friends has swaged down inter a whine, the fust thing I know I'll be in jail, with my funeril appinted, and ole Handy Locket, the undertaker of the mongril—or is it man-grill?—Convention, engaged to see that my corpis is suspended, too. But ma be your devils are like the rest o'em, "not so black as they air painted," and won't dirty everything they tech, tho' their fingers is apt to stick; but my 'pinion is that they ain't black at all, only jest a dark shade o' blue that looks monstrous black to us, somehow, 'cause we can't 'zactly digest all we has to swaller, and bile will 'fect the sight, you know, perticklar when its surprest.—So wishing you a good digestion, and circulation as well, I remains yer true friend and paying subscriber

BETSEY BITTERSWEET.

P. S.—Betsey Jane says as how I orter 'o writ it e x populi vox dei, but I knows better 'n that, for I heard a Texis Unionist—he was a Secessionist then—say afore the war, "My friends, I tell you in the words 'o that good old Mexikin proverb, vox populi nux vomica," and I reckon he knowed, for he was a trying for Mexikin votes, like Holden-Pool Unionists is for black uns.

A UNION DITTY.

DEDICATED TO HER SISTERS IN AFFLICKSHUN BY BETSEY BITTERSWEET.

The AMERICAN MANGLE we have been thro',
And tho' we come out of it pressed rather flat,
The Reddykills said we still would'nt do
And so SHERMAN'S WRINGER they added to that.
But Lord bless yew, sisters, dont heed 'em, I pray,
Of one thing we none on us have any doubts,
That it can no longer be treasen to say,
If we did'nt see-cured, we some how saw sprouts.
By a long "course o' sprouts" we are out at the toes,
The elbows and pocket, and now we must try
How best we can save our money and clothes,
Or the next Yankee patent will squeeze us quite dry.
SHERMAN'S WRINGER—of hearts?—don't wring us of bread,
So Stevens is fixing to patent, next fall,
The Plantation Wringer of purses instead,
To leave us no need for a PATER at all.
As they won't leave us out, we've got to go in,
And I'm for a Union dont need so much soap,
The great UNION WASHING AND WRINGING MASHIN,
Which offers poor house-keepers some little hope.
My Betsey was told by a Yankee o' late,
It she'd say just exactly how much she had lost
By the freezing o' niggers and bumming o' plate,
He'd opeu his pocket and pay the whole cost.
But Betsey, she sed, it could'nt be done,
Salvation was worth far more'n his cash,
And she was afeard for her there was none
From losing her temper and speaking so rash.
Mr. Bill he is loyal to greenbacks and sich,
And I'm for the Union, so mind what we say,
Get a washing mashin with a WRINGER, for which
You wont have salvation, but money, to pay.
For I, Betsey Bitterweet, tell yew in rhyme,
A saving o' money, a saving of clothes,
A saving of labor—and saving of time,
Is a saving of temper as well as of those.
You can put all the darkies to wielding a hoe,
For washing is no more than running "a FINGER,"
And ladies of color may weed a wide row,
If we've this mashin and a DRYER and WRINGER.
Where can yew get'em? Of J. Ward & Co.,
23 Cortlandt Street, great New York city,
And now I have told yew all that I know,
And so ends the Bittersweet's sole Union Ditty!

MARTIAL LAW.

The late case against Colonel Nelson and Lieutenant Brand, indicted for the murder of Mr. Gordon, in Jamaica, elicited from Chief Justice Cockburne, who presided at the trial, a lengthy discussion of Martial Law—its application and limits under the law of England:

"He professed himself shocked and alarmed at the loose definitions which are commonly received, and thought it high time that they were brought to the test of a judicial interpretation. He contended that there is a broad distinction to be made at the outstart between a rebel in arms and a civilian who becomes in any way amenable to martial law. The trial of the Earl of Lancaster, in the reign of Edward II., was not a case of martial law, although irregular. There may be some doubt about the Wat Tyler insurgents, in the reign of Richard II., but it was thought necessary to obtain an act of indemnity.

"In the reigns of Henry IV. and Henry VI. there were frequent irregular executions; but the first instance of martial law, in its modern sense, was the prosecution, after the battle of Stoke, of the wealthy adherents of the Simnel rebellion. Henry VII., however, wanted money much more than blood, and very few were executed. The trials were illegal throughout. The rebellion was suppressed, and it was certain that you could not bring men to trial under martial law after rebellion had been suppressed.

"In the reign of Edward VI. the disaffected were in the habit of raising the villages by the sound of church bells, and, according to a proclamation contained in Strype's Ecclesiastical Memorials, this attempt to muster men in arms was forbidden under pain of death, to be executed by the authority of law martial, whereby no delay should be permitted as in other cases.—'This was a strong proclamation, but it was entirely ultra vires for the crown to have dealt with these offences otherwise than by act of Parliament.' Again, 1549, according to Strype, lord-lieutenants in various Counties were empowered to exercise martial law. In 1552 there was a proclamation of the same kind.

"Lord Hale said that such proclamations were oftened issued in terrorem populi, without any intention of carrying them into effect.

"Another proclamation was issued in the reign of Queen Mary, in which martial law was threatened against those who imported heretical works; and, if Hume was to be believed, this example was followed by Queen Elizabeth, who proclaimed that those who imported bulls or traitorous works from Rome should be punished with death under martial law. Again, upon a representation from the citizens of London, concerning apprehended riots, the Queen issued a commission authorizing the establishment of martial law, and the execution under it of all rioters, and declaring, with an extraordinary stretch of assumed power, that persons who were leading vagrant lives, and could not give a good account of themselves, should be hung up. This was an entirely unconstitutional proceeding.

"James I. and Charles I. issued commissions for courts martial, but the Petition of Right pronounced these commissions unlawful, and solemnly asserted that no English subject was to be subjected to martial law. This doctrine has never since been contradicted in practice.

"The Chief Justice added, that, having examined every instance in English history in which martial law had been referred to or proclaimed, he could find no such thing as martial law used for the purpose of putting down rebellion. He was, therefore, utterly astonished to find persons in authority, and out of it, talking about martial law in an easy, familiar way, as a thing perfectly understood and settled in England, when, in truth, it had never been resorted to or exercised."

TOURGEE, one of the Editors of the Union Register, one of the most Radical papers in the State, made a speech at Kernersville last week, and we understand he threw hot shot into the Janus faced radicals who served the Confederacy while it was in existence and who now denounce all who did the same.—Mr. E. B. Teague, one of the Commoners for this county, asked him if he endorsed the platform adopted by the late Raleigh caucus. He replied that he did, but that he could not endorse the secession leaders who adopted it, that he would rather support a man who had fought through the whole war in the Confederate army, than such men as Holden, Settle and Dick, who were Confederate so long as it paid, but deserted as soon as office and pay was stopped.—Western Sentinel.

A swindler, calling himself A. Stanfort, is going through South Carolina collecting money from persons of color, and giving them in return certificates for land, which he says will be taken from the white people in about fifteen days and delivered to them. He represented himself as an agent for the government.

GRAND PRESENTATION CONCERT IN AID OF THE
SOUTHERN ORPHAN
ASSOCIATION,
INCORPORATED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF VIRGINIA.
Jan. 30th, 1867.
To be Given at Baltimore, June 17th.
1867.
TICKETS ONE DOLLAR EACH, TO BE HAD of JOHN BRAGG, Agent, at Southern Express Office, Raleigh, N. C.
Owing to recent troubles, the Managers have issued the following Card to which the attention of the Public is called:
OFFICE PRESENTATION CONCERT, Baltimore, April 13, 1867.
MESSRS. EDITORS.—Our attention has been called to extracts in Southern papers reflecting upon the management of the Presentation Concert in aid of the Southern Orphan Association, and in answer to the statements and assertions contained in such extracts we wish to lay the whole matter before the people, that they may judge from the actions of our accusers the motives by which they are governed. We call attention to the facts contained in the following card, and request the public to bear in mind that the parties mentioned were only members invested with no authority to act in any official capacity whatever. The power they sought to usurp would give them full control of the books and funds, by which they could shape the first to suit them, and withdraw the latter from the bank, where it is now, subject to the order of the Association:
[From the Baltimore Gazette April 11.]
TO THE PUBLIC.
The Southern Orphan Association being liable to misrepresentation in consequence of the late arrest of some of its members on charges preferred by Mr. A. G. Kimberly, we beg leave to present the following statements in regard to the Association and its accusers:
At the inception of the Society the ladies connected with its origin, in view of difficulties that might arise in procuring a charter, determined to admit as members such gentlemen as were supposed to be proper to advise and assist them. Some of these gentlemen apparently worked for the sole benefit of the Association until the Charitable Concert was proposed. After that their actions showed but too plainly that they desired to obtain control of the Association.
At a meeting of the Trustees upon the 8th. of March a constitution, drawn up by Messrs. Kimberly and Hawkins, investing them with full power and authority to handle the funds of the Association and to examine its books, was proposed by Mr. Kimberly, and upon a vote being taken, it was laid aside. The ladies, with some exceptions, rejected it and the President and Treasurer, not recognizing the legality of the document, refused to vote. In this manner it was laid over. Notwithstanding this, the parties resolved themselves into committees and set to work.
On the 3d. of April a committee, consisting of Messrs. Kimberly and Bostock, under this so called constitution, came to our office and demanded the books. The President being present, stated that having refused to accept the constitution, she would not recognize the committee. On the 4th. Mr. Kimberly called, with two gentlemen, and again demanded the books, and was again refused.
On the 5th. by request of Messrs. Kimberly, Hawkins and Bostock, we, with two witnesses attended an interview with them at Barnum's Hotel. Mr. Hawkins stated that he had that morning received a letter from General Trimble, authorizing him to prosecute us for having opened one of the General's letters, which he intended to do to the full extent of the law if we did not give up the books. As the officers should decide this, we told him that he would be answered next day. On that evening the officers and ourselves were arrested on a warrant issued by Mr. Kimberly, and released on bail. The next evening Mr. Hawkins issued a warrant for the arrest of our book keeper, Mr. Schiers, on the charge of having opened General Trimble's letter. As the charge was false, Mr. Schiers was dismissed. We see from this morning's "sun" that these parties "announce their unqualified repudiation of the project," etc., which will be taken for what it is worth, when it will be shown that they repudiated, etc., because they lost their large commissions and the rejections of their farms and houses by the Society. The offices and rank they append to their signatures are of their own creation, as the Society wishes the public to understand that it does not recognize the name and office of "Finance Committee" as ever having been created by said society.
We here leave the public to determine the motives of our accusers, for, to our mind, a simple narration of the above facts is sufficient to show that the Association and ourselves are attacked because we would not suit the purposes of Messrs. Hawkins, Bostock and Kimberly.
L. T. PALMER & CO.
In consequence of the persecution arising from our late connection with these persons, we are compelled to postpone the GRAND CHARITABLE PRESENTATION CONCERT to the SEVENTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, 1867. This will give us ample time to dispose of all the tickets, and it will afford the public an opportunity to investigate the facts which we have published, thus gaining that confidence which is necessary to ensure the success of every public measure.
We do not wish these statements to be taken unsubstantiated, as we cordially invite an investigation of the enterprize. The grand jury of this city presented us, and we hope that they would go further and indict us, for we wished to prove to the world our honesty and disinterestedness in this measure, which could not be better done than in an investigation by the grand inquest.
It now remains with the public whether the "Home and School" shall be built. Whether the poor, fatherless children of the South, whose parents' blood was shed in defence of Southern homes, shall be deprived of the blessings which this enterprise seeks to obtain for them. Must we appeal in vain? No, it shall not be said that the Southern people were so ungenerous as to condemn those who are seeking to benefit the children of the soldiers who died for them, upon the evidence of men who, when they say their own mercenary aims frustrated, sought to cover their guilt by bringing charges on us. Charges which, in the only trial that was allowed us, were proved to be as false as perjury could make them
L. T. PALMER & CO.
Mrs. J. L. HAMMOND, President, Mrs. E. A. F. MEARES, Treasurer, Mrs. McCURDIN and Mrs. SCOTTER, Trustees of the Southern Orphan Association, have also published a card. The following are extracts:
"We invite an examination of our books and the funds now accumulating in bank subject to the order of the Association, for the purpose of erecting the home and school for the orphans of the "Confederate dead" in the city of Richmond, Virginia. Nothing that we can say will testify more accurately the correctness of our plans than an investigation of our books and funds, and it was because we, as custodians of these treasures, would not surrender them to dishonest men, that we are now subject to their persecutions and abuse.
We have seen the horrors and devastation of the late war, and know the immense amount of suffering occasioned by it. Homes were rendered cheerless by the loss of its head, who fell fighting for the homes of the South, and it was our sympathy for the poor and friendless orphans of the South that caused us to enter into the resolution of securing for them a home and providing an education, as may render them hereafter good and useful citizens of a free and happy land.
We confess, however, that if we could have looked through the future and seen the trials and persecutions to which we are subjected, we would have never attempted to begin so thankless a work. But now, having embarked in it, our reputation is at stake, and we must build the Home and School; therefore we call upon all good people to assist us toward the completion of our work by discrediting the assertions made by our enemies. And we ask—nay, we demand—that those papers whose opinions were founded upon the acts of our employees, should give to the public our statements, and modify their assertions so as to be in strict accordance with the facts.
Not long since, Messrs. L. T. Palmer & Co., published a card which, as we approved it then, we will officially endorse it now, that the information contained therein may go forth to the public with every guarantee for its truthfulness.
In consequence of the delay occasioned by the conduct of the persons above alluded to, we have been compelled to inform our managers to postpone the Concert until the 17th. day of June, 1867, that we may be able to begin the building as soon as our Concert business shall end."

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

W. W. Jones, Esq., is our Agent at Louisburg, N. C.

J. W. Norwood, Esq., is our Agent at Warrenton, N. C.

Thos. M. Smith, 25 Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., calls attention to his splendid importations.

Pulliam, Jones & Co., will have another Grand Catalogue Sale on the 22nd. inst.—These sales, instituted by this enterprising firm, are among the most extensive conducted in the South.

MAYOR'S COURT.—Willie Jones, colored, for a misdemeanor on the street, was fined $5.

METHODIST CHURCH.—We are requested to announce that Rev. Dr. Craven, of Trinity College, will preach in the Methodist Church, to-morrow, at 10½ o'clock, A. M. and that the Rev. Jno. S. Long, of Washington, will preach in the same Church at night.

SEPARK'S NEW COTTON PLOW.—The attention of farmers and planters is specially called to the advertisement of B. P. Williamson & Co., in to day's paper, relative to this plow. Mr. Separk, the inventor, is Superintendent of Messrs. B. P. Williamson & Co's. Foundry in Raleigh, and, after much labor and experiment, has succeeded in making a cotton plow superior to any ever before offered in this section. This is the opinion of all who have seen it. Mr. Separk is an excellent and ingenious practical mechanic and deserves great credit for this valuable agricultural implement.

MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION.—The semi annual meeting of this Association was held in the session room of the Presbyterian Church, yesterday afternoon,—Mrs. Frances D. Miller presiding, in the necessary absence of the President, Mrs. Branch.

THE Association has made the most satisfactory progress in its noble labors, and will enter upon its new term of operations with loving and devoted zeal. It is desirable that the fund now in hand, which has been donated with special reference to the erection of the monument, shall not be trenched upon for other purposes. It is therefore important that the annual assessments, &c., shall be promptly paid, in order to the vigorous prosecution of the work of improving and adorning the Cemetery grounds.

It was decided to commemorate the 10th. of May,—the anniversary of the death of Jackson and of the formation of the Association,—by becoming memorial observances. There will be no attempt at formal display, but the ladies of the Association are requested to meet at the Capitol, at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of that day, with flowers and evergreens, whence they will quietly repair to the Cemetery, for the purpose of decorating the hallowed mounds of the sleeping brave.

THE PRESIDENT'S VISIT.—Upon the authority of the Washington Star, some time since, we announced that President Johnson designed accepting the invitation to visit this City, during the present month. This rumor, we observe, is going the rounds and continues to gather as it rolls.

It is perhaps time for us to say, that no person in this City, official or private, so far as we learn, has one word from the President, or his family, authorizing the expectation of an early visit from the President. If he intends visiting this city, he has not yet given our citizens or authorities any notice of such a visit. The allusions to the laying of the corner stone of the monument to his father are all premature. No arrangements, so far as we know, are yet made for that purpose, though a movement has been on foot for procuring such a monument.

Parker Overby, Esq., has been elected a member of the Board of Commissioners of this City for the Western Ward, to fill a vacancy. Mr. Overby is a loyal man, but we understand a rank rebel received some votes against him in the Board.—Standard.

The gentleman thus offensively alluded to, as a "rank rebel," is our estimable townsman, John C. Palmer, Esq., than whom there is no more quiet, unobtrusive, loyal and deservedly popular citizen in the community.

MATCH GAME.—The match game of base ball between the "Star" and "Crescent" Clubs of this City, which came off on yesterday afternoon, resulted in the success of the former by handsome odds. The "Crescent" wanes before the rising young "Stars." The game was conducted with much spirit, and was witnessed by quite a large concourse of our townspeople of both sexes.

The following is the report of the scorers, Messrs. Lacy, of the "Crescents," and Clark, of the "Stars."

STATE ITEMS.

—— The first of May was celebrated in a quiet way by the colored people of Salisbury. They were addressed by Dr. Hall, Hon. Lewis Hanes, Maj. Robbins and Luke Blackmer, Esq., whites, and by several colored men. The speeches were all of a highly conservative character and the sentiments of the orators on both sides those of mutual respect and good will,—portending, says the Old North State, the greatest harmony between the races.

—— The services on the occasion of laying the corner-stone of the Confederate Mausoleum in Cedar Grove Cemetery, in Newbern, took place on Thursday evening. The Commercial says that the attendance, as might have been expected, was very large—the ceremonies grand and impressive—the address of Maj. John Hughes eloquent and appropriate—the singing, by some ladies and gentlemen of known ability, magnificent.

—— The citizens of Tarboro', with their proverbial hospitality, are preparing for a "great time," on the occasion of the annual meeting of the State Medical Society, which takes place in that town on the 15th.

—— A Base Ball Club is being gotten up in Fayetteville.

—— The Henderson Index says that the ladies of Sassafras Fork, Granville county, have formed themselves into an association for the purpose of decorating the graves of such of the Confederate dead, as have been buried near that neighborhood. They have fixed upon the 10th of May, (the anniversary of the death of Stonewall Jackson,) as the time of meeting.

—— Gov. Worth has issued a Commission to Judge Barnes to hold a Court of Oyer and Terminer in Edgecombe, on the second Monday in June. There is a large docket of criminal cases awaiting trial.

—— Edward Reid, a colored man, in a card to the Wilmington Journal, denies having any affinity with the Radicals of this State, and concludes his letter thus: "I take pleasure in stating that my sympathies are, and ever have been, with our Southern people."

—— Two whales were captured in Beaufort harbor on Thursday.

—— Rev. A. W. Mangum is lecturing on "what Carolina of the past says to Carolina of the present." He is laboring in behalf of the Female College at Greensboro'. His lecture is spoken of in terms of high praise.

—— Maj. James C. Smythe, an old and estimable citizen of Salisbury, died on Thursday morning, in that place.

—— The Henderson Index says that the trial of W. H. Hughes, of that place, before the Court of General Sessions in New York City, which was set down for hearing on the 17th of last month, was postponed upon the affidavit of one of his counsel, Geo. Badger Harris, setting forth that Hughes could not safely come to trial, without the testimony of numerous witnesses residing in Granville County, and asking for a continuance, and for a commission to take depositions, both of which were readily granted by the Court. The trial will come off as soon as the depositions are taken, which will be in a few days.

—— A gentleman named William Whitehead, living near Greenville, Pitt County, was robbed on the 16th. ultimo of some $2,700 or $3,000. About Christmas last Mr. Whitehead hired a negro named Nelson Clark as a house servant, and another, a very bright mulatto, named John Houston, for his step-son. On the night of the 16th the two were missing. Mr. Whitehead suspected that he had been robbed, and was about going to his money safe to examine, when his wife laughed at his fears, so that he desisted from his intention. In about ten days afterwards he had occasion to go to the safe, and found that his first fears were correct, and that he had been robbed of between $2,700 and $3,000. He has, as yet, been unable to track the thieves. Mr. Whitehead offers a reward of $100 for the apprehension of Nelson Clark and twenty per cent. of all money recovered.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Saturday Morning Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

Judge Underwood, District Attorney Chandler, and Mr. Davis' Attorney, Mr. Chas. O'Connor, are in the city, for the purpose consulting Attorney General Stanbery regarding the writ of habeas corpus for Mr. Davis. If the government obeys the writ, which is probable, bail will be tendered and the prisoner released.

Secretary Stanton is better. He attended a Cabinet meeting to-day.

Mr. Walker addressed the Supreme Court, in a three hours speech, on the Mississippi injunction case, to-day, which was a masterly effort. He said that constitutional liberty and self government were now on their final trial and it was about to be decided, for posterity and all the world, whether written constitutions were parchment scrolls of words written in sand, to be swept away by the first angry surge of popular passion—whether they can be evaded by technical issues or a plea of want of jurisdiction. A broader bill of attainder and pains and penalties had never been passed, reducing ten millions of loyal and disloyal people to territorial bondage and substituting the gleaming sword and bristling bayonet for constitutional guards and courts of law.

FERTILIZERS

FOR SPRING CROPS.

WE beg to inform the trade and planters of North Carolina and Virginia, that we are prepared to furnish them with the most approved FERTILIZERS, on the most accommodating terms. We will have a stock of genuine PERUVIAN GUANO, purchased direct from the Agent of the Peruvian Government.

We have now in store, for immediate delivery, 325 tons BRADLEY'S SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, which won for itself such an enviable reputation in the Cotton and Tobacco counties of North Carolina and Virginia, last season, proving itself equal, and in many important respects, superior to the Peruvian Guano. We give an analysis of it as ascertained by Dr. Hayes, one of the most eminent Chemists in the country:

Results of Analyses Made of Bradley's Patent Super-Phosphate of Lime, as now sold by Wm. L. Bradley.

100 PARTS CONSIST OF
Moisture	5.30
Prepared animal matter, salts of Ammonia, fatty substances and Humin	20.80
Bone Phosphates of Lime, Magnesia and Iron	36.80
(Soluble Phosphates of do. 16 6-10.)
Sulphate of Lime	16.50
Salts	20
Insoluble	2.60
	99.90

The animal matter afforded 4 2-10 parts of Ammonia when it was decomposed, and, as will be seen, nearly one-half of the Bone Phosphate is soluble.

After many analyses of your Super-Phosphate of Lime, made during the last few months, I have found your standard of quality full equal to that of any you have ever sold in former years; and I am satisfied that you include the correct principles in the manufacture. Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., state Assayer.

THE SENTINEL.

SATURDAY, MAY 4, 1867.

SATURDAY NIGHT.

Chafed and worn with worldly care,
: wearily, Lord, my heart prepare :
Bid this inward tempest cease ,
Jesus, come and whisper peace !
Hush the whirlwind of my will ;
With Thyself my spirit fill ;
End in calm this busy week ;
Let the Sabbath gently break !

Sever, Lord, these earthly ties—
Fain my soul to Thee would rise,
Disentangle me from time—
Lift me to a purer clime ;
Let me cast away my load,
Let me now draw near to God,
Gently, loving Jesus, speak—
Lead in calm this busy week.

THE LORDS DAY.

I have often heard it remarked by Christians of a serious and devout disposition, to whom the sacred day of rest had become, through habit and principle, a season of hallowed delight, that it seemed to their eyes as if on the Sabbath the sun did shine more bright, the works of God appear more beautiful, the fields more fresh, the flowers more sweet, and all the face of nature to wear an unusual and a fitting stillness. It is not that the sun does shine more bright, or that the fields are indeed more sweet upon this than on any other day. It is only that we are apt to think thus because our minds are attuned to order, and to piety, and to contemplation. It is because our hearts are harmonized by the general repose and regularity around us. We look upon the joyful countenance of man, we see no sorrow ; labor is at an end ; quietness is upon the scene ; and our affections are weaned from earthly, and fixed upon heavenly things. The goodness of God and the beauty of holiness force themselves into our thoughts ; and in the fullness of the feeling, we almost fancy that the inanimate creation has been taught to sympathize with the benevolence of our own souls, and to remember, like ourselves, the Sabbath of God.—Rev. C. Benson.

THE UNCHANGEABLE LAND.

Things do not change in the East. As Abraham pitched his tent in Bethel, so does an Arab sheikh now set up his camp ; as David built his palace on Mount Zion, so would a Turkish pasha now arrange his house ; in every street may be seen the hairy children of Esau, squatting on the ground devouring a mess of lentils like that for which the rough hunter sold his birthright ; along every road plod the sons of Rechab, whose fathers, one thousand years ago, bound themselves and theirs to drink no wine, plant no tree, enter within no door, and their children have kept the oath ; at every khan young men around the pan of parched corn dipping their morsel into the dish ; Job's plow is still used, and the seed is still trodden into the ground by asses and kine ; olives are shaken from the boughs as directed by Isaiah ; and the grafting of trees is unchanged since the days of Saul. The Syrian house is still, as formerly, only a stone tent, as a temple was but a marble tent. What is seen now in Bethany may be taken as the exact house of Lazarus, where Mary listened and Martha toiled, or as the house of Simon the leper, where the precious box of ointment was broken, and whence Judas set out to betray his Master. —Dickens' All The Year Round.

There is one thing that confounds all infidelity—no one ever repented being a Christian on his death bed.

Congressional Reconstruction Acts.

For the information of our readers we republish as follows the late reconstruction act of Congress, known as the Sherman-Shellabarger bill. We shall add to it the Howard Amendment, Test Oath and the Supplementary act, all of which will be kept standing until the necessary information they contain shall be generally and fully understood.

THE RECONSTRUCTION ACT.

AN ACT to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States.

[Passed over the President's Veto, March 2d, 1867.]

WHEREAS, no legal State governments or adequate protection for life or property now exists in the rebel States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, Florida, Texas, and Arkansas ; and whereas it is necessary that peace and good order should be enforced in said states until loyal and Republican State Governments can be legally established : Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That said rebel States shall be divided into military districts and made subject to the military authority of the United States, as hereinafter prescribed, and for that purpose Virginia shall constitute the first district ; North Carolina and South Carolina the second district ; Georgia, Alabama and Florida the third district ; Mississippi and Arkansas the fourth district ; and Louisiana and Texas the fifth district.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of the President to assign to the command of each of said districts an officer of the army, not below the rank of Brigadier general, and to detail a sufficient military force to enable such officer to perform his duties and enforce his authority within the district to which he is assigned.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That it shall be the duty of each officer assigned as aforesaid to protect all persons in their rights of person and property, to suppress insurrection, disorder and violence, and to punish or cause to be punished all disturbers of the public peace and criminals, and to this end he may allow local civil tribunals to take jurisdiction of and to try offenders, or, when in his judgement it may be necessary for the trial of offenders, he shall have power to organize military commissions or tribunals for that purpose, and all interference, under color of State authority, with the exercise of military authority under this act shall be null and void.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That all persons put under military arrest by virtue of this act shall be tried without unnecessary delay, and no cruel or unusual punishment shall be inflicted ; and no sentence of any military commission or tribunal hereby authorized affecting the life or liberty of any person, shall be executed until it is approved by the officer in command of the district, and the laws and regulations for the government of the army shall not be affected by this act, except in so far as they conflict with its provisions. Provided, That no sentence of death, under the provisions of this act, shall be carried into effect without the approval of the President.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That when the people of any one of said rebel States shall have formed a constitution of government in conformity with the Constitution of the United States in all respects, framed by a convention of delegates elected by the male citizens of said State, twenty one years old and upwards, of whatever race, color or previous condition, who have been resident in said State for one year previous to the day of such election, except such as may be disfranchised for participation in the rebellion, or for felony at common law ; and when such constitution shall provide that the elective franchise shall be enjoyed by all such persons as have the qualifications herein stated for electors of delegates ; and when such convention shall have framed such constitution, it shall submit the same to the people voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates ; and when such Constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the persons voting on the question of ratification, who are qualified as electors for delegates ; and when such constitution shall have been so submitted to Congress for examination and approval, and Congress shall have approved the same ; and when the said State, by a vote of its legislature, elected under said constitution, shall have adopted the amendment to the constitution of the United States, proposed by the Thirty-ninth Congress, and known as article fourteen ; and when said article shall have become a part of the constitution of the United States, said State shall be declared entitled to representation in Congress, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom, on their taking the oath prescribed by law ; and then and thereafter the preceding sections of this act shall be inoperative in said State. Provided, That no person excluded from the privilege of holding office by said amendment to the constitution of the United States shall be eligible to election as a member of the convention to frame a constitution for any of said rebel States, nor shall any such person vote for members of such convention.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That until the people of said rebel States shall be by law admitted to representation in the Congress of the United States, any civil government which may exist therein shall be deemed provisional only, and in all respects subject to the paramount authority of the United States at any time to abolish, modify, control or supersede the same ; and in all elections to any office under such provisional governments all persons shall be entitled to vote, and none others, who are entitled to vote under the provisions of the fifth section of this act ; and no person shall be eligible to any office under such provisional governments, who would be disqualified from holding office under the provisions of the third article of said constitutional amendment.

SCHUYLER COLFAX
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
LAFAYETTE S. FOSTER,
President of the Senate pro tem.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment referred to in the 4t , section of the Sherman Bill :

Proposed Constitutional Amendment.

ARTICLE XIV.

Section 1. All persons born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States ; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law, nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.

Sec. 2. Representatives shall be apportioned among the several States according to their respective numbers, counting the whole number of persons in each state excluding Indians not taxed. But when the right to vote at any election for the choice of electors for President and Vice-President of the United States, representatives in Congress, executive and judicial officers of a State, or the members of the Legislature thereof, is denied to any of the male inhabitants of such State being twenty-one years of age and citizens of the United States, or in any way abridged except for participation in rebellion or other crime, the basis of representation therein shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of such male citizens shall bear to the whole number of male citizens twenty-one years of age in such State.

Sec. 3. No person shall be a Senator or Representative in Congress, or elector of President and Vice-President, or hold any office, civil or military, under the United States or under any State, who, having previously taken an oath as a member of Congress, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, shall have engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the same, or given aid and comfort to the enemies thereof. But Congress may, by a vote of two-thirds of each House, remove such disability.

Sec. 4. The validity of the public debt of the United States authorized by law, including debts incurred for payment of pensions and bounties for services in suppressing insurrection or rebellion, shall not be questioned. But neither the United States nor any State shall assume or pay any debt or obligation incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave ; but all such debts, obligations and claims, shall be held illegal and void.

Sec. 5. The Congress shall have power to enforce by appropriate legislation the provisions of this article.

The following is the oath of office referred to in the 5th section of the bill, and also in the 6th of the Supplementary Bill :

An Act to Prescribe an Oath of Office and for Other Purposes.

Be it enacted, That hereafter any person elected or appointed to any office of honor or profit under the Government of the United States, either in the civil, military or naval department of the public service, except the President of the United States, shall before entering upon the duties of such office, and before being entitled to any of the salary or other emolument thereof, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation : "I, A B, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the U. S. since I have been a citizen thereof ; that I have voluntarily given no aid, countenance, counsel or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostility thereto ; that I have never sought nor accepted nor attempted to exercise the functions of any office whatever, under any authority, or pretended authority, in hostility to the United States ; that I have not yielded a voluntary support to any pretended government, power or constitution within the United States, hostile or inimical thereto ; and I do further swear (or affirm) that to the best of my knowledge and ability, I will support and defend the constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic ; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same ; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God," which oath, so taken and signed, shall be preserved among the files of the Court, Houses of Congress, or the department to which said officer may appertain. And any person who may falsely take said oath shall be guilty of perjury, and on conviction, in addition to the penalties now prescribed for that offence, shall be deprived of his office and rendered incapable, forever after, of holding any office or place under the United States.

Approved July 2, 1862

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STEVENS-SHERMAN-SHELLABARGER BILL.

AN ACT supplemental to an act entitled an act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, passed March 2, 1867, and to facilitate restoration.

Be it enacted, &c., That before the first day of September, 1867, the commanding general in each district defined by the act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States, approved March 2, 1867, shall cause a registration to be made of the male citizens of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and upwards, resident in each county or parish in the State or States included in his district, which registration will include only those persons who are qualified to vote for delegates by the act aforesaid, and who shall have taken and subscribed the following oath or affirmation :

"I, ——, do solemnly swear, or affirm, in the presence of Almighty God, that I am a citizen of the State of ——; that I have resided in said State for ——months next preceding this day, and now reside in the county of ——, or the parish of ——, in said State, as the case may be ; that I am 21 years old ; that I have not been disfranchised for participation in any rebellion or civil war against the United States, nor for felony committed against the laws of any State or of the United States ; that I have never been a member of any State Legislature, or held any executive or judicial office in any State, and afterwards engaged in insurrection and rebellion against the United States, and given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof ; that I have never taken an oath as a member of Congress of the United States, or as an officer of the United States, or as a member of any State Legislature, or as an executive or judicial officer of any State, to support the Constitution of the United States, and afterwards engaged in insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or given aid or comfort to the enemies thereof ; that I will faithfully support the Constitution and obey the laws of the United States, and will, to the best of my ability, encourage others so to do. So help me God."

Which oath or affirmation may be administered by any registering officer.

Sec. 2. That after the completion of the registration hereby provided for in any State at such time and place therein as the commanding general shall appoint and direct, of which at least thirty day's public notice shall be given, an election shall be held of delegates to a convention for the purpose of establishing a constitution and civil government for such State loyal to the Union ; said convention in each State, except Virginia, to consist of the same number of members as the most numerous branch of the State Legislature of such State in the year 1860, to be apportioned among the several districts, counties, or parishes of such State by the commanding general, giving to each representation in the ratio of voters registered as aforesaid as nearly as may be. The convention in Virginia shall consist of the same number of members as represented the territory now constituting Virginia in the most numerous branch of the Legislature of said State in the year 1860, to be apportioned as aforesaid.

Sec. 3. That at such election the registered voters of each State shall vote for or against a convention to form a constitution thereof under this act. Those voting in favor of such a convention shall have written or printed on the ballots by which they vote for delegates as aforesaid, the words "for a convention ;" and those voting against such a convention shall have written or printed on such ballots the words "against a convention." The persons appointed to superintend said election, and to make return of the votes given thereat, as herein provided, shall count and make return of the votes given for and against a convention ; and the commanding general to whom the same shall have been returned, shall ascertain and declare the total vote in each State for and against a convention. If a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, then a convention shall be held, as hereinafter provided ; but if a majority of said votes shall be against a convention, then no convention shall be held under this act : Provided, That such convention shall not be held unless a majority of all such registered voters shall have voted on the question of holding such convention.

Sec. 4. That the commanding general of each district shall appoint such loyal officers or persons as may be necessary, not exceeding three in each election district, in any State, to make and complete the registration, superintend the election, and make return to him of the votes, lists of voters and of the persons elected as delegates by a plurality of the votes cast at said election ; and upon receiving said returns he shall open the same, ascertain the persons elected as delegates according to the returns of the officers who conducted said election, and make proclamation thereof ; and if a majority of the votes given on that question shall be for a convention, the commanding general within sixty days from the date of election, shall notify the delegates to assemble in convention at a time and place to be mentioned in the notification, and said convention, when assembled, shall proceed to frame a Constitution and civil government according to the provisions of this act, and the act to which it is supplementary ; and when the same shall have been so framed, said Constitution shall be submitted by the convention for ratification to the persons registered under the provisions of this act, at an election to be conducted by the officers, or persons appointed by the commanding general as hereinbefore provided, and to be held after the expiration of thirty days from the date of notice thereof to be given by said convention, and the returns thereof shall be made to the commanding general of the district.

Sec. 5 That if, according to said returns, the constitution shall be ratified by a majority of the votes of the registered electors qualified as herein specified, cast at said election, at least one-half of all the registered voters voting upon the question of such ratification, the president of the convention shall transmit a copy of the same, duly certified, to the President of the United States, who shall forthwith transmit the same to Congress, if then in session, and if not in session, then immediately upon its next assembling ; and if it shall moreover appear to Congress that the election was one at which all the registered and qualified electors in the State had an opportunity to vote freely and without restraint, fear or the influence of fraud, and if Congress shall be satisfied that such constitution meets the approval of a majority of the qualified electors in the State, and if the said constitution shall be declared by Congress to be in conformity with the provisions of the act to which this is supplementary, and the other provisions of said act shall have been complied with, and the said constitution shall be approved by Congress, the State shall be declared entitled to representation, and Senators and Representatives shall be admitted therefrom as herein provided.

Sec. 6. That all elections in the States mentioned in the said "Act to provide for the more efficient government of the rebel States," shall, during the operation of said act, be by ballot ; and all officers making the said registration of voters and conducting said elections shall, before entering upon the discharge of their duties, subscribe an oath faithfully to perform the duties of their said office, and the oath prescribed by the act approved July 2, 1862, entitled "An act to prescribe an oath of office :" Provided, That if any person shall knowingly and falsely take and subscribe any oath in this act prescribed, such person so offending, and being thereof duly convicted, shall be subject to the pains, penalties and disabilities which by law are provided for the punishment of the crime of wilful and corrupt perjury.

Sec. 7. That all expenses incurred by the several commanding generals, or by virtue of any orders issued or appointments made by them under or by virtue of this act, shall be paid out of any moneys in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Sec. 8. That the convention for each State shall prescribe the fees, salary, and compensation to be paid to all delegates and other officers and agents herein authorized or necessary to carry into effect the purposes of this act, not herein otherwise provided for, and shall provide for the levy and collection of such taxes on the property in such State as may be necessary to pay the same.

Sec. 9. That the word "article" in the sixth section of the act to which this is supplementary shall be construed to mean "section."
